

Sushi no Tomodachi
(寿司の友達)
Clint Collier

Sushi no Tomodachi translates to...friends of sushi. We are a group of SIR members that gathers together every other month for lunch to sample the offerings of different sushi restaurants in the area, enjoy each other's company, and to solve the problems of the world. So far, we are two out of three, pretty good!

The size of our group is restricted in order to keep the group to a manageable level so that we can carry on our conversations and make comments on the sushi. New members are welcomed with their own custom masu, branded with our name in Japanese, in which to enjoy their sake which always seems to accompany the sushi.
